The Pujo Committee Can not Quite Overlook Pierpont. THEY SEE HIS FINE WORK IN THE DEALS. Pulled Off By George F. Baker and His Associates.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Further examination of George F. Baker was expected to occupy the entire session of the house money trust committee today. His examination was but begun yesterday and Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee, said that many important questions were still to be discussed with the chairman of the board of directors of the First National Bank of New York. The committee desires to trace the joint operation of Mr. Baker with J. P. Morgan in the handling of issues of securities by railroads and industrial corporations, as well as the joint interest of the two men in banks and trust companies in New York and throughout the country. On the latter point Mr. Baker was expected to be examined in detail. The committee will conclude its hearings for this week today and adjourn until next Tuesday. Chairman Pujo desires to push the hearing to an end as soon as possible so that the committee may get down to work on its report to this congress. When Mr. Baker resumed the stand today he asked permission to make a statement. "You made me out such a great holder of directorships yesterday," he said to Mr. Untermyer, "that I wish to say that I never became a director or a voting trustee of any company at my own solicitation." "We just began to ask you about your directorships," said Mr. Untermyer. He added that a list furnished by Mr. Baker's bank showed that directors in the First National held 88 directorships in other corporations. In 37 corporations members of J. P. Morgan and Company and directors of the First National Bank were common directors. Mr. Baker agreed to furnish a list of the corporations in which he himself was a director. He thought he held about fifty such places.

Much Material Damage Has Been Done in Several Cities.

COURT HOLDS FOR JUDGES

Certificate Ordered Issued for Election of Judge Chittenden.

THE OPINION GIVEN WAS UNANIMOUS.

Circuit Court Judges May Sit as Judges of Appellate Court.

Columbus, O., Jan. 10.—In a decision handed down today in the mandamus case of Judge Charles Chittenden of Toledo, against Governor Harmon, the supreme court held that circuit court judges elected at the last general election have a right to sit upon the bench of the new court of appeals, created by a new constitutional amendment.

The court ordered Governor Harmon to issue a certificate of election to Judge Chittenden.

The court was unanimous. The decision will be reported. This will clear up all doubt of the right of the candidates elected as circuit judges in November to take seats as judges of the courts of appeal on February 5th.

By the decision the court again upholds the ruling of Attorney General Hogan, who gave it as his opinion that the constitutional amendment should be construed to mean that those elected circuit judges in November should be seated as judges of the court of appeals.

Judge Chittenden, who gets his commission, was represented by Attorney General Hogan and Judge J. M. McGillivray, his special counsel; by former Supreme Judge A. N. Summers, and Judge F. M. Hagan of Springfield, and Attorney Charles S. Northup of Toledo.

Counsel on the other side was composed of George R. Okey and Thomas J. Keating of Columbus, and John A. McMahon of Dayton. The suit was a friendly one. Governor Harmon refused to issue the commission to get the question before the court.

SHOE PEOPLE IN THE TOILS

Charged With Violation of Terms of Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

CONTROL MOST OF SHOE MACHINERY.

Which Government Counsel Insists is a Violation of the Measure

Washington, Jan. 10.—Acts of officials of the United Shoe Machinery company were up for measurement by the Sherman anti-trust act today in the supreme court. The court had advanced the government's appeal from the action of the Massachusetts federal court in annulling the indictment against the officials as not charging an offense under the Sherman law.

The appeal of the government from the holding of the lower court was made by Solicitor General Bullitt. He declared that the constitutionality of the Sherman act as a criminal measure was now beyond dispute. The combination of from seventy to eighty per cent of all the shoe machinery business of the country into one, he contended, was in itself so great a proportion of the entire business as to constitute a restraint of trade within the meaning of the Sherman law. The solicitor general also contended that the adoption of a series of leases containing a so-called "tying" clause whereby every customer, in order to secure any one kind of a machine from the combine was compelled to agree not to use any other machine made by the "independents" and to use only machinery made by the combine was also in violation of the law.

Frederick P. Fish and Charles F. Choate, Jr., of Boston, were present to defend the action of the officials. They took the position that the consolidation of the separate concerns into the United Shoe Machinery company was a normal trade development. As to the "tying" clause, they declared the court did not at this stage have the power to consider that, because it was merely an overt act, charged to prove the conspiracy, and not a part of the conspiracy itself, which was the only thing the court could review.

DO NOT STOP ADVANCING

The Department Keeps on Making Its Perfunctory Investigation.

INTO THE REASON LIVING IS SO HIGH

But No Practical Good Results From Their Labors.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Soaring prices of food stuffs are pictured in a new set of figures compiled by the United States department of labor from its investigation of the cost of living in 39 American cities.

Between August, 1911, and August, 1912, only two things decreased in price—potatoes and sugar. Meanwhile, everything else advanced.

In Boston sirloin steak has advanced 24 per cent; in Buffalo 10 per cent; in Atlanta 8 per cent; in Chicago 19 per cent and in Birmingham 15 per cent.

But the figures showing the advance in prices during the last ten years show the following increases: Sugar, 6 per cent; butter, 34; milk, 35; flour, 35; potatoes, 46; eggs, 47; lard, 57; beans, 59; sirloin steak, 62; ham, 63; rib roast, 63; corn-meal, 64; round steak, 66; smoked bacon, 100, and pork chops 105.

Within the 39 cities the department investigated live one-fifth the total population of the United States. Two-fifths of the urban population and approximately one-third of all the people engaged in gaining occupations, not including farmers.

The minister decided to apply to the senate for a decision on the general right of merchants of the Jewish faith to trade and live in all parts of Kiev and in the meantime has suspended the execution of the circular.

The minister of education has authorized the opening here of four Hebrew schools, after long opposition.

WEST POINT CADET VIOLATED RULES

West Point, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Cadets at the United States Military Academy speculated today upon what action the authorities would take over the marriage of one of the cadets yesterday in violation of the rule that cadets are not permitted to marry. The romance in question is that of Elmer E. Adler, a sergeant, who, dressed in uniform, was married at Tarrytown yesterday to Miss Florence E. Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Davis of Buffalo. Adler came from Billings, Mont., and was in his third year at West Point.

None of the cadets today could recall a similar romance, and they wondered what the authorities will do if anything further than declare him disqualified as a cadet.

Miss Davis met Adler at a football game more than a year ago.

MEETING HAS COME TO END

Last Sessions of Ohio Corn 'Improvement Association Held Today.

RESOLUTIONS WERE ADOPTED YESTERDAY

Meetings Throughout Have Been Successful and Well Attended.

The fifth annual meeting of the Ohio Corn Improvement Association closed this afternoon when the final sessions were held at the Allen County Memorial Hall. During the entire week this hall has been a center of attraction for all of the farmers and those interested in the modern methods of corn production. The former days of the week were devoted entirely to the exposition of the corn that had been entered in the competition, and by yesterday morning, all of the awards in this class had been made and the winning exhibits duly marked. Yesterday morning the meetings were opened by the president, Mr. John Cunningham, secretary, Mr. John Cunningham, and the following day the Seventeenth Ohio senatorial district. The banquet on the preceding night had been a complete success, and all of those who were concerned in this meeting and show became more enthusiastic than ever about the work. The way was thereby paved for a most successful series of meetings. The principal address of the meeting yesterday was the opening talk by the president. Carefully prepared and of great interest, it was a talk that could be readily understood by all, and it was one that was instructive in the extreme, and inspiring to all present. One of the principal features which received the attention of the speaker in this talk was the fact that the soil is a natural combination, the result of the action of chemical reaction, and that it was not a thing which would last forever, a sort of self-preservation, but that it had been used according to the doctrine of indestructibility that the recognition of the fact that it must be cared for and protected had wrought a radical change in the science of agriculture, and demanded the attention and consideration of all farmers. He dwelt at length on the need of preservation of it. Following the address of the association, other eminent speakers spoke to the meeting, and were all received with enthusiasm. There was a large crowd present, but at all times the meeting was marked by a great attention to the speakers. Among those who spoke were, Charles McIntire, of the County Experiment Farm at Troy, O.; Prof. A. D. Selby, the biologist at the Wooster Experiment Station; and H. O. Benson, of Washington, D. C. During the evening the moving pictures that had been taken of the Buckeye Boys' Corn Special which made the trip to Washington with the winners of the Buckeye corn contest were exhibited. Many of the boys from this part of the state who made this trip were on hand to receive the prizes and the mothers, fathers, relatives, and friends of the boys were prominent in the audience. The appearance of the boys in moving pictures was the cause of many exclamations and many appreciative remarks. Today the meetings were well attended and were begun in the auditorium of the Memorial Hall as previously announced, at 9:30. The first was the business session. This occupied some time, but of utmost importance and interest. The regular program was then followed out, consisting of the following talks: "How to Grow More and Better Corn," by Prof. A. T. Wiancko, of Purdue University. "Fertilizing the Corn Crop," by Director Charles E. Thorne, of the Ohio Experiment Station at Wooster. "The Commercial Grading of Corn," by Dr. J. W. T. Duvel, crop technologist, in charge of the grain standardization in the United States department of agriculture. "Cooperation of the Farmer and the Grain Dealer," by T. P. Riddle, secretary of the Tri-State Grain Dealers Association, of Lima, O. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the Association in the meeting that was held yesterday. Whereas, the fifth annual corn show of the Ohio Corn Improvement Association has been a great success, which will profoundly influence operations in this state, Resolved, That we the officers and members, tender a cordial vote of thanks to the citizens of Lima and to Mr. P. Riddle in particular, for their contribution and assistance. Resolved further, That we highly commend Secretary A. P. Sandles for his great work in the development of agriculture and hearty congratulations upon the success of the "Boys' Corn Special" to Washington, D. C., and commend that he continue this great work and also permit the girls to enter the contest in 1913. Resolved, That we cordially invite the boys and girls who entered the corn contest to attend the corn show and exhibit their products. Resolved, That we most heartily endorse the Cahill law and commend the State School Commissioner and his supervisors upon the effective teaching of agriculture in our public schools. Resolved, That we request the State Legislature to make ample provisions for the improvement of our roads. Resolved, That we request all farmers' organizations to urge the railroads to convey passengers at special rates to the Wooster experiment station as an educational feature for farmers. Resolved, That we highly appreciate the parcels post and request its further extension and improvement. Resolved, That we commend the agricultural institutions of the state for their splendid achievement and recommend that they operate so as not to duplicate or overlap in their work. Resolved, That we strive earnestly to overcome local differences, to abolish sectionalism, to get a larger vision in order that we may cooperate in securing a closer relation between producer and consumer, which will be mutually beneficial and result in the advancement of our high calling. Signed, J. W. COOK, S. A. HARBOUT, W. A. WHEELER. At the annual election which was held this morning, all of the main officers of the association were re-elected for the coming year. They are: John Cunningham, president, Gambier; Jas. W. Cook, vice president, Forest; D. W. Galehouse, secretary, Wooster; C. S. French, treasurer, Salem. At the district vice presidents, Mr. Gorath was elected for the northwestern division, Mr. Dutton for the southwestern and Mr. McCune of the west central division, were re-elected. There was no decision for the northeastern. For the state for next year there are four cities in the state playing heavy for choice, with Marietta in the lead as the first contestant. The matter has not been decided as yet.

WOULD CLEAR YALE'S NAME

Alumni Association Issue a Book Presenting the Real Life.

SEEK TO ATTRACT
MORE YOUNG MEN.

Clever Edition is Being Distributed in This District By R. P. Mackenzie.

Exhibiting a desire to spread the fame of the Yale college more broadly throughout the country, and in some places to eradicate the erroneous opinions that have been formed concerning the life in this old seat of learning, the Alumni Advisory Board are making a very active campaign.

Mr. Ralph Mackenzie, of this city and an active member of the alumni of the class of 1903, is lately in receipt of a large number of beautifully compiled books which set before the reader a true picture of the life at Yale in its various forms. These books in themselves are very attractive, and are filled with interesting photos of the student life at Yale, and giving a number of the old places.
Buildings, meetings, concourses of students, councils of the faculty, etc., are all displayed with excellent half-tones. Enough embellishment is added that the very appearance of the edition is attractive. But the reading matter that is contained therein is what is of the prime importance to the Yale graduate, as well as to the young man who is contemplating a college course in one of the American universities. In this edition there is set forth by those who have been there and tried the possibilities of the student life in New Haven, the manner in which any one can live, study and succeed.
The variety of life is given, and the manner in which all is carried along.
In this same edition is also given a brief outline of the courses that are furnished for the men to pursue, as well as some of the things which he will bump up against when he first arrives. All is as carefully explained as possible, that the opinion that has been spread broadcast throughout the country by outsiders that the life at Yale could in many ways be materially improved upon may be allayed.

In this city at the present time the Yale graduates are few and far between. In the total there can be found but four today: Mr. Ralph Mackenzie, Mr. W. H. Mackenzie, both of the class of 1908; Mr. John Roby of the law school class of 1891; and Dr. G. W. King, of the 1909 class of the medical school.

AN INTERESTING MEETING.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First United Brethren church held a very interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. Chas. Voris on Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was opened with song, followed by the Scripture lesson and prayer by Mrs. McCubben. A reading was given by Mrs. Warren Jones, and a piano solo by Mrs. J. B. Bovey. The lesson, "Some Christian Women of the Orient," was taught by Mrs.
Grady. Very interesting and instructive talks were given on this subject by different members of the society. After a short business session conducted by the president, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Cut the High Cost of Living.
W. H. Chapman, Winnebago, Neb., tells how he did it. "My two children had a very bad cough and the doctor's medicines did them no good.
I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and before it was all used the children were free and cured of their cough. I saved a doctor's bill for one 25c bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound." No opiates. M. M. Keltner.

THEY ARE GOING LIKE HOT CAKES

Take Them Now or Wait Until You Can Get Them, is the Rule.

Who'd have thought it? This self-shaving, money-saving proposition is creating more excitement than a county fair, and The Times-Democrat is now kept busy trying to supply the demand. This $5 Self-Shaving Outfit for only six coupons and the small cost of expense makes men sit up and take notice. "How do you do it?" they inquire. Ask the manufacturers and they'll say "Coupons," and that is the answer.

We don't want to scare you, but somebody will surely be disappointed if our supply is not soon replenished. The Outfits are going now like the proverbial hot cakes, so if you don't want to wait for yours, present your coupons before it is too late.

One man said a day or two after he got his outfit that he wouldn't take $7 for it if he couldn't get another right away, and that seems to be the verdict of all who have got them.

Hints for Housekeepers Keep Foley's Honey and Tar Compound always on hand, and you can quickly head off a cold by its prompt use. It contains no opiates, lozels and soothes the inflamed air passages, stops the cough, and may save a big doctor's bill. In the yellow package. M. M. Keltner.

HOUSE AND ITS CONTENTS

Completely Destroyed By the Flames Yesterday Afternoon.

ENTIRE FAMILY MADE HOMELESS.

House Was Seething Mass of Flames When Depart- ment Arrived.

Fire completely destroyed the home of Charles Peggs at the corner of Fifth and Union streets yesterday afternoon, and rendered the Peggs family homeless. Only a few articles of bed clothing were saved from the ruins. The loss is estimated at about $600, without insurance. Chief Mack and the south side department answered the alarm, which was outside the corporation limits.

The entire garret was ablaze and burning furiously when Mrs. Peggs discovered the fire. By the time she ran to the house of a neighbor and notified the fire department, the house was a seething mass of flames, and was beyond control when the department arrived. The roof and walls of the house collapsed about the time the fire ladders arrived.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but is believed to have been caused by a bracket flue. The house was of frame construction, with heavy roofing paper, and formed an easy prey to the flames. The firemen were required to lay over 1000 feet of hose, as the nearest hydrant to the house was at the corner of Main and Fourth streets.

Chief Mack turned the case over to the trustees of Perry township after the fire, as it was without his jurisdiction.

NOBLE PRIZE NOVELTIES.
 The Noble Foundation has two novel experiences in this, its twelfth year of prize giving, occurring almost simultaneously. One is the making of a public protest, for the first time, against one of its awards on the ground of unfairness. The other, which is, on the whole, the more important of the two, is its own inability, also for the first time, to find any candidate worthy to receive a certain prize.

The former of these incidents is of special interest to Americans, because the protest is against the awarding of a prize to Dr. Carroll, the distinguished surgeon of the Rockefeller Institute. There is no denial, we believe, of the value of his achievements. The objection is to the method of his work, and it is made by the devotees of anti-viviv-section. His offense is that in order to lessen human suffering, improve human life he has experimented on the living bodies of animals, generally without inflicting any pain. The simple statement of the case is to pass judgment upon it. The protest confirms the justice of the award.

WHAT BETTER CROPS WOULD MEAN.

When more than five hundred Ohio boys under 16 years of age each cultivating one acre of corn, produce an average of 85 bushels of shelled corn to the acre it is impossible not to perceive the vast opportunity which exists for enlarging staple crops without in reas-ing the acreage of land under cultivation. That is, of course, if it is understood that the present yield of corn in Ohio, averages about 35 bushels to the acre.

An increase of 150 per cent in the average productiveness of Ohio corn fields would mean an enormous addition to the wealth of the state every year. Even if it is admitted that the acres chosen by these five hundred young corn-growers were selected for the special fertility of their soil, and if it is granted that the boys put more work upon their crops than ordinary commercial conditions would justify, still it is clear that an increase of 50 per cent, probably of 100 per cent, in the yield of Ohio corn fields is not only possible but would be commercially profitable.

Such a rate of gain in the average yield of corn might be duplicated, not in bushels but in rate per cent, of increase, in growing wheat, oats, potatoes, hay and other standard crops. Like possibilities of improvement exist in raising livestock and poultry and in dairy farming.

CURING A COLD.
 Some one asked the Chicago Tribune doctor if lobelia powder was helpful for cold in the chest, and thus the doctor replies:
 "Lobelia powder is used for cold in the chest. My advice to you is not to use it. When you are in the fever stage of a cold stay in bed, drink water, and use a purge. After the aching stage has passed, get plenty of fresh air, eat lightly, and let your cold get well of itself." There is sensible advice about curing a cold, if there is any cure for a cold. And that advice is needed, for there is so much ignorant treatment of colds going on.
 Fresh air, light eating, take care of yourself, and the "cold will get well of itself." Then there is one further thing—do all this, be happy and stop talking about it.

PRISON REFORM NEEDED.
 There seems to be a general movement throughout the country to improve the conditions surrounding prisoners in our penal institutions. As usual, women organizations lead in the work.
 Women have sized up the situation intelligently. They contend that prisoners should have a system of management which would improve the mental attitude of the inmates toward life, whereas now prisons tend to make inmates feel embittered and, when leaving institutions, to view society from wrong viewpoints. It is also rightly contended that the honor system, attending prisoners to labor at many industries at or near the institution without guards, is proving successful.

This subject of prison reform is an old one, but there are substantial reasons why it should be still studied and not relinquished by legislatures and civic organizations until more satisfactory conditions prevail in all penal institutions. A prison which does not do anything toward reforming the inmates is a decidedly unprofitable and undesirable thing in any commonwealth.

FEATURE AT THE ROYAL TODAY
 Owing to so many not having seen the famous feature film "Deadwood Dick" when it was shown here before the management has secured a return engagement on same. Many who saw it before have expressed their desire of seeing it again, so their chance is now at hand.
 Deadwood was a real character of the Black Hills in the early days of the west when night was right and when he had such companions as Wild Bill Hickok, Calamity Jane and Omaha Oll. The old timers at Deadwood, South Dakota, are still loud in their praises of Deadwood Dick who was always on the side of law and order, a rum fighter, but a respecter of womanhood, for whose rights he would fight at the drop of a hat, and who was always a friend of the poor and weak. His many daring deeds and adventures are

CATHERINE KINZER WEDS CAPT. SPEARS
 And Their Future Home
 Will be in Philippine Islands.

Capt. Clifton M. Spears, in charge of the Philippine scouts, and stationed at Mendocino, Philippine Islands, was married, Thursday evening, to Miss Catherine Kinzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kinzer, of 308 north Pine street. The ceremony took place at 6:30 o'clock at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. H. C. Schleuter, pastor of the German Reformed church. The couple were accompanied by the bride's sister, Miss Anna Kinzer, and Mr.
 Ennis Walker.

The bride wore a tailored gown of dark blue serge, with small hat to match. Capt. Spears was in the uniform of the United States Army.
 Miss Kinzer, the attendant, wore a tailored suit of black.
 The bridal party returned to the Kinzer home on north Pine street, following the ceremony, where a wedding dinner of six courses was served to about 25 friends and relatives. The decorations at the home consisted of pink sweet peas and bride's roses and the American flag was brought out in a deft arrangement. The bride cut the wedding cake with the sabre of Capt. Spears.

For a time, some years ago, Capt.
 Spears was located in Lima, having in charge the recruiting office of the United States army. It was at this time that the friendship begun, was carried on under such favorable circumstances and resulted in the marriage of Thursday evening, notwithstanding land and ocean separated the couple.

Capt. Spears and his bride left Friday morning for an extended trip in the south. Upon their return they will visit with relatives in the States until the latter part of March, when they will leave for San Francisco, Cal. They will sail from that port on April 4th for the islands, where

SHOCKING ARE DETAILS

Of Story Unfolded to Police
This Afternoon by a Mother.

NINE-YEAR-OLD
LAD THE VICTIM

Of the Acts of a Degenerate Who Languishes in City Prison.

Details of one of the most shocking and revolting episodes in the history of the local police department came to light at police station this afternoon, when Mrs. Lulu Thurston, a cigarmaker living at 418 north Pierce street, unfolded a tale to Chief Vermilion that had been told her only a few moments before by her nine-year-old son, Robert Thurston.

Austin Strong, aged 32, a farm hand, who has been employed by different farmers in this section of the state for the past two years, and to all appearances, a degenerate of the lowest type, languishes in the city prison this afternoon as a result of the disclosures made to Chief Vermilion by Mrs. Thurston. He was positively identified by the Thurston boy as the man involved in the affair, and he will be arraigned before Mayor Shook tomorrow morning on a statutory charge.

The alleged offense is said to have been committed last September near McCullough's Lake, but the lad kept the secret from his mother until early this afternoon. Upon learning of the horrible details, Mrs. Thurston at once notified the police. From the lad, it was ascertained that Strong was in the city today, and officers were instructed to search the city for him.

Patrolman Wingate located the man about 2 o'clock this afternoon at the corner of Main and Wayne streets, and placed him under arrest. He was taken at once to police station, where he registered as Austin Strong, aged 32. Apparently unconcerned over his arrest, Strong talked freely to the officers, and did not seem to realize the seriousness of the charge preferred against him.

He told the police that he was born at New Milford, Connecticut, and left there about eight years ago, coming to Ohio. For the past two years, he has been employed as laborer on various farms in the county. He worked last for Joe Wampler, of West Cairo, and prior to that time, was employed on the farm of Ben Driver, of Bath township. He worked for Driver during the harvest season last fall, and when he finished there, secured a job with Wampler. He left Wampler's place a week ago, and since then has been loafing in this city.

Boy Told His Mother.
Mrs. Thurston told Chief Vermilion this afternoon that her young son had been coming home every few days for the last six months or more with money that he said some strange man had given him. She suspected that all was not as it should be, and today when the boy returned after being with the stranger, with some money which he had given him, she subjected him to a severe cross-examination.

After questioning him at length, she succeeded in forcing the truth from him, and once started, the boy made a clean breast of the whole affair. He told her of what had happened near McCullough's Lake last September after they had been in swimming together. The mother hastened at once to police station to acquaint the authorities with what had happened, and they were not slow to act.

Young Thurston furnished the chief with the names of other boys who had been with them, and Patrolman Wingate is busy this afternoon collecting other evidence that will be used against Strong when he is arraigned before the mayor.

The offense of which Strong stands charged is a most serious one, and is punishable by a term in the state penitentiary of not less than 20 years.

CASE OF BILL FOR MOTORCYCLE REPAIR

Everitt Gave Decision of No Cause For Action in Matter Before His Today.

A case titled F. W. Mullenhour vs. Otto Schick, for the collection of a bill of three dollars and seventy cents for repairs that the plaintiff made of a motor cycle at the solicitation of the former was heard by Justice of the Peace E. E. Everitt this morning at 9 o'clock. The case was filed on the fourth of this present month. When the evidence was brought in it developed that the repairs were the result of a smash up which the rider of the motor cycle had last summer. At the time the cycle was being ridden by one Benj. Miles, who had borrowed the same from Mr. Schick.

The evidence showed that Schick was not the cause of the trouble and should not be held for the repairs which were necessitated by another. The justice gave a verdict of no cause of action and assessed the costs of the case against the plaintiff. However, it was clearly demonstrated that another could be held for the bill, and it was suggested that this individual arrange matters outside.

NAVAL GUN TELESCOPES.

Device That Made Possible Accurate Long Range Firing.

It was about the year 1895 that the telescope was first tested in conjunction with the firing of a modern gun. The tremendous concussion broke the lens, however, so that in order to use it at all the telescope had to be detached from the gun before firing, thereby entailing a loss of several seconds in time after aim had been taken.

Later, to obviate this defect, the telescope was adjusted to the axis of the gun by a system of parallel arms moving up and down in unison with the gun, though detached from it. This of course was a great improvement, but there were still grave practical defects.

Well, along in the early sixties Henry C. Mustin, a young midshipman at Annapolis, lean faced and square of jaw, built like a medium sized Hercules, quiet mannered, but a bulldog in the football field, interested himself in the study of optics. Naturally enough his thoughts were directed to the defective lenses of the gun telescopes.

The lenses broke when the guns were fired; therefore it was necessary to invent a nonbreakable lens. One day years later, while stationed in Washington, Mustin called a few of his brother officers to the window near his desk on the second floor of a building in the navy yards. He showed them a lens with a metal band "shrunk" around its circumference. Then he opened the window and deliberately threw the lens with all his might upon the brick pavement below. The others knew of his pet hobby and thought he had given it up in disgust and had taken this way of telling them so. But he put on his hat, lit a cigarette and bade them follow him. He led them down the stairs and considerable joking and out to the spot where the lens lay on the pavement. The glass was unbroken. The one great defect of the telescope sight had been overcome, and Mustin had made possible the long range gunnery of the modern navy. The thud of the little glass disk with its metal collar upon the brick pavement was the signal for the nations to begin to build their Dreadnaughts.—American Magazine.

LONG HAired MEN.

They Caused a Vigorous Protest in Massachusetts in 1840.

The following protest signed by Joseph Knicker, governor; Thomas Dudley, deputy governor; Richard Bellingham, Richard Saltonstall, Increase Nowell, William Hibbins, Thomas Flint, Robert Bridges and Simon Brantstreet was published in Massachusetts in 1840:

"Protest, against wearing long hair, of the governor, etc., of Massachusetts:

"Foremuch as the wearing of long hair, after the manner of Russians and barbarous Indians, has begun to invade New England, contrary to the rule of God's word, which says it is a shame for man to wear long hair, as also the commendable custom generally of all the godly of all our nation, until within these few years;

"We, the magistrates, who have signed this paper, for the showing of our own innocency in this behalf, do declare and manifest our dislike and detestation against the wearing of such long hair, as against a thing uncivil and unmanly, whereby men do deform themselves and offend sober and modest men and do corrupt good manners. We do therefore earnestly intreat all the elders of this jurisdiction, as often as they shall see cause, to manifest their seal against it in their public administrations, and to take care that the members of their respective churches be not defiled therewith; that so, such as prove obstinate, and will not reform themselves, may have God and man to witness against them. The third month 10th day, 1840."

The Stranger.

A stranger knocked at a man's door and told him of a fortune to be made. "Um!" said the man. "It appears that considerable effort will be involved."

"Oh, yes," said the stranger; "you will pass many sleepless nights and tedious days!"

"Um!" said the man. "And who are you?"

"I am called Opportunity."

"Um!" said the man. "You call yourself Opportunity, but you look like hard work to me."

And he slammed the door.—Pittsburgh Post.

FRANK PLOCK UNDER ARREST

Former Lima Resident is Accused of Passing Bogus Check.

ITALIAN FRUIT DEALER VICTIM.

Crime Was Committed Last November, but Plock Left the City.

The mystery surrounding the passing of a worthless check for $3.75 at the fruit and grocery store of Frank Bannano, an Italian, of north Main street, last November, is believed to have been cleared up by the police this morning in the arrest of Frank Plock, a former Lima resident, who returned to this city a few days ago.

Plock was arraigned before Mayor Shook this morning on a charge of forgery, pleaded not guilty, and was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $500 bond. It is believed that his friends will come to his relief and secure his release from jail pending the investigation of the case by the grand jury at its next session.

On November 13th, 1912, Bannano reported to the police that he had cashed a bogus check for $3.75, made payable to F. B. Plock, and signed by Jacob Ziegler. The check was cashed November 1st, but it was 12 days later that Bannano presented it to the bank for payment and learned that the signature was a forgery.

Officers detailed on the case were unable to locate Plock at that time, as he had left the city a few days before the matter was reported to headquarters. Yesterday afternoon, Sergeant Grant noticed him passing the station house, and immediately placed him under arrest. When questioned at headquarters, Plock could not remember having had the check, and maintained his innocence of any wrongdoing.

For the purpose of comparison, Plock wrote his signature at the police station this morning, and it is the opinion of the police that it tallies minutely with the signature on the check.

However, the thing that puzzles the police is that the endorsement on the back is written in an entirely different handwriting, which would indicate that if Plock made out the check he did not cash it. This matter will have to be threshed out by the grand jury.

There is no similarity between the Plock check and the other bogus checks which the police are holding, and his arrest has no bearing on the number of cases which the police have yet to solve. Plainclothesmen in the department have been working all week trying to strike a clue to the identity of the smooth swindler who has been victimizing local merchants for the past two or three months.

Gallery tickets are in demand today, and when the curtain is rung up on the opening number, it is safe to say that there will not be an inch of seating room unoccupied.

The orchestra arrived in Lima this morning, and the members are quartered at the various hotels in the city. The concert this evening promises to be one of the real musical treats of the season.

STATE'S CASE NOT STRONG

Against the Politicians Who Are Accused of Law Breaking.

LIMA ATTORNEY ASSISTING HOGAN

Spends Time in Steubenville Assembling Necessary Evidence.

According to the opinion of prosecuting Attorney Welty of Allen county, as expressed in the following dispatch from Columbus, the state of Ohio hasn't a very strong case in the corrupt practices trials about to be assigned in Jefferson county. The dispatch reads:

Columbus, O., Jan. 9.—Attorney Ben F. Welty of Lima, who has been named as special counsel by Attorney General T. S. Hogan to push the Jefferson county corrupt practices prosecutions, announced today that an assignment of the indictments for trial will be made tomorrow.

Welty has been in Steubenville for several weeks conducting an investigation and said that conditions were unfavorable for the state. From the start, strong efforts have been made to block further investigation and prejudice the public mind against the prosecutions.

Prosecuting Attorney Jay S. Paisley, who will continue to hold the place until the mandamus suit brought by his successor-elect, W. C. Brown, is determined, has said there is little use to continue the grand jury inquiry.

ent trade, which assumed large proportions this week, many visitors were attracted to this city by the State Corn Show and the poultry show, both of which are being held in this city this week. Large theatrical companies have been the rule every day this week also.

The Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra which gives a concert at the Faurot theatre this week, arrived in Lima this morning, and the members of the organization are quartered at the various hotels. The majority of them are registered at the Hotel Waldo, which was compelled to hang out the "Nothing Doing" sign as early as 10 o'clock this morning.

From a visit to the leading hotels this morning, it can be conservatively estimated that between eighty and one hundred guests were turned away in this city last evening.

THREE FINED IN MAYOR'S COURT.

Police Court Proceedings Enlivened by Two Cases of Disorderly Conduct and One of Train-riding.

Two cases of disorderly conduct and one for train riding enlivened the proceedings in Mayor Shook's court this morning. As usual, the accused pleaded guilty to the charges and were fined the usual amount, $1 and costs.

Ed Polling, a stranger in the city, was arrested by the police on south Central avenue about 8 o'clock last evening and lodged in the city bastille on a charge of disorderly conduct. Residents on Central avenue complained that the man was using vulgar and profane language in the street, and officers were despatched to take him in custody. He pleaded guilty this morning, and was fined $1 and costs.

An hour later, May Shattel, a young married woman, was arrested in the alley in the rear of the Gazette block on east High street, for disorderly conduct. The woman was quarreling with her husband when the officers arrived, and annoying people living in that vicinity. She also pleaded guilty this morning, and was given the minimum fine of $1 and costs.

Special Officer McGrane of the Pennsylvania brought Frank Indel, an itinerant, to the station yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, and filed a charge of train-riding against him. Indel was arrested near the Pennsylvania depot as he alighted from a moving train. He admitted his guilt to the mayor this morning, and was fined $1 and costs.

Faurot—"Officer 666."

"Officer 666," the play that is scheduled for production at the Faurot next Saturday afternoon and night is another Cochar and Harris success that is attracting more than ordinary attention in the amusement world.

"Officer 666" is a melodramatic farce. Its scenes frame a story of a young millionaire who finds that his riches fail to provide him with enough variety in life. In this condition he is suddenly confronted with a proposition that requires the activity of all his wits in the solving. The play is said to be crisp in humor and to be played with the speed and vim that presents its scenes with kaleidoscope rapidity. "Officer 666" was written by Augustin MacHugh, an author who, up to January 1st, 1912, was absolutely unknown in the realm of playwrights. The success that has attended his maiden effort, however, is all the more gratifying in view of the fact that he has evolved an original play with its scenes laid in America, its plot woven around Americans, and its story in a speedy American way, by an all American company. The author has not borrowed from the German or French, but strange to say he is credited with having written a farce that is full of pungent wit, smart chatter and electrifying situations that one can laugh at to one's heart's content without being compelled to apologize to one's seat mate for the exhibition of hilarity. On the contrary, the piece is said to be a clean, healthy farce that tells a coherent story, and which may be recalled without a blush, and it is presented by as capable a company of actors as could be secured, including the following: Gladden James, Sydney Stone, Edmund Shalet, John McCabe, Daniel Hamilton, Bertram Millar, Julia Nagl, Marguerite Patterson, Sadie Duff, Irving Southard, Charles Martin, M. W. Chambers and John Cuffe.

Seats are now selling for both matinee and night.

MAE LA PORTE.

Dainty Mae La Porte will open her engagement at the Faurot next Monday, appearing in "When Hearts Are Young" at the matinee and "The Open Window" at night. Miss La Porte's stay is for five days only and she offers a very attractive list of plays. Seats will go on sale Saturday morning for all evening performances, and the management announce a special rate for Monday night.

PERRY UNION.

There is not very much work being done in this vicinity on account of bad weather.

There are quite a number of people of this vicinity butchering this week.

John Fleming was in Lima, Wednesday, attending the poultry show.

A number of people of Perry Union are attending the revival meeting at Westminster.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Coolidge are the proud parents of a fine baby girl, born January 3. Both mother and baby is doing fine.

R. R. Speer is still on the sick list, but he is improving slowly.

Miss Belle Meeks is working for James Coolidge.

John Kenick is attending the poultry show in Lima this week.

Mrs. H. E. Hitis and daughter, Opal, were in Lima, Saturday.

Little Walter and Ralph Fleming are on the sick list this week with bad colds.

W. R. Fox, 195 W. Washington St., Noblesville, Ind., says: "After suffering many months with kidney trouble, after trying other remedies and prescriptions, I purchased a box of Foley Kidney Pills which not only did me more good than any other remedies I ever used, but have positively set my kidneys right. Other members of my family have used them with similar results." Take at the first sign of kidney trouble. M. M. Keltner.

WESTMINSTER.

The funeral of C. C. Crosson, of Lima, was held here Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Crosson was a resident of Westminster for more than 50 years, and was known by almost every child and adult in and around this place. After the death of his wife a few years ago he went to live with children in Lima. Z. A. Crosson, the well known grocer of east Market street, is a son, and Mrs. N. D. McCoy, of south Lima, at whose home he died is a daughter. Mr. Crosson was a soldier of the Civil war and was past 86 years of age.

W. W. Creps is still very low with asthma and heart trouble. The attending physician and family do not entertain any hopes of his recovery. Mrs. Creps is some better, at this time, she is now able to sit up most of the time.

Rev. Creamer is holding his protracted meeting at the M. P. church at this place. Rev. Creamer is quite an able talker, and deserves the attention of the church-going people.

Lee McCoy, the unfortunate man who lost his good right arm not long since, is suffering with a growth of a very curious formation on the stub, just above the amputation that has healed very nicely.

Mrs. Miner Smith and daughter, Lena, are both very sick. Mr. Smith was unable to attend the funeral services of her father, the late C. C. Crosson, last Tuesday.

Our schools are progressing very nicely under the able management of our efficient teachers, Prof. Weaver, Miss Hazel Brown and Miss Mabel Helmer.

S. M. McCoy is visiting his brother, Adam, and other relatives in Marion and Effingham counties Illinois.

O. H. Wiswell transacted business at Harrod, last Tuesday.

Floyd Wiswell, of Harrod, was seen on our streets one day this week.

Our genial blacksmith, A. D. Smith talks of leaving our town. He offers his home and shop for sale.

Miss Lizzie Anderson, who has been very sick for the past two weeks, is convalescing slowly.

The heavy rains and melting snow has raised the Auglaize river very high, almost out of its banks.

There was a gentleman of the name of White looking at our local blacksmith shop with a view of buying it, one day last week.

The restaurant, of which M. Hazard Apple is the proprietor, is doing a good business considering the size of the town.

That's THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN, and Here's the Proof in This Week's Issue

Knowing How About Hogs

If a man can raise hogs that are good enough to win the highest honors at the greatest livestock show in the world he must know something about it. That's what we thought when we asked H. T. Morgan to write us an article on what to put into a hog to get the most out of him. More than once Mr. Morgan has brought fat hogs to the International Livestock Exposition that won highest honors on foot and on the block. A hog that wins in the carcass contest has been fed right. Morgan knows how. Read his article.

A Lot of Little Worlds

Down in Maryland Nature has made a ranged job of the shore line. Every few miles there is a long inlet or estuary and boats run up and down the country to get the farmer's produce. Farmers fifteen miles apart have different boat lines, and for that reason they don't get together as often as most farmers. Going across a river pier is more difficult than crossing the road—the hen stays on the shore, the pig, too. J. Russell Smith went down there and found that each little peninsula was a little world by itself, growing its own peculiar crops. He has written several articles about these little worlds that are surrounded by oyster beds. This is the first of the series.

My Little Farm

This is a story written by a man who is "his own boss" and who doesn't believe in cutting wood with a buck-saw. He came from England a poor man and settled in Canada. His first job was with a truck gardener, and he tells how he got started on his employer's method, and finally came to own a farm of his own. It is a simple story of a man who worked with his shirt and his mind open.

Eating Our Heads Off

That is what some of us are doing. Indigestion is the great American disease. It's a break. You go on eating until it creeps on you and makes you think something else is the matter with you. Heart-disease, liver complaints, peptic ulcers, are usually only fancy diagnoses of indigestion. The human body is like a gasoline engine which, when added on poor gasoline, gradually closes up, slows down and stops. The farmer has the finest food available, but does he use it right? Dr. Roger J. Perkins tells of the evils of Pie and Fry.

The Cereal of The South

We have a growing rice industry. This food crop, the mainstay of several nations, can be grown to perfection on many adaptable lands in the Southern States. It is immensely profitable where well managed. It does not unduly exhaust the soil; it is a crop worth studying. Read about it in the article, "Where Rice is King," by F. G. Moorhead.

A Corn-cob Conserver

"The reason men succeed who mind their own business is because they have so little competition." This is the motto that hangs in the living-room of a Kansas farmer. He has minded his own business so well that he now owns a lot of rich prize land and the biggest battery of silos in the country. He is one of those fellows who puts the oil where the squeak is. He says a mowing-machine ought to last fifteen years. His did. He doesn't waste to his corn-cobs, either. Charles Dillon has written a mighty interesting article on this man and his farm. You'll like it.

Cashing-In Farm Credit

The vital fact in all this rural credit agitation frequently overlooked is: What has the farmer to offer for the money he wants to borrow? How will he pay it back, even if the loan is for a long term of years? What secures the investment? What is the greatest asset of a farm? Why must methods be improved before cash will be forthcoming? These and a dozen other pertinent questions are answered by Mr. B. F. Harris, the Illinois farmer-banker. He knows the farmer's side because he runs a farm of his own; and he knows the banker's side because that is his chief business. What he says is fundamental and mighty important.

Sixteen Years of Plenty

Secretary James Wilson has directed the United States Department of Agriculture through a period of the greatest development of American farming. His report, just issued, is a historic document, tracing the expansion of agriculture through these years of increasing farm production. Read the summary. It is inspiring and suggestive, and a wealth of the future of farming.

A Paragraph That Men Can Skip

During the coming year we shall devote more space to the dust side of the household. And we shall do this, not by taking away anything from the man's department, but by increasing the size of the weekly. Space does not permit us to tell here all our plans for the countrywoman; but these plans include the woman's sphere from cellar to garret and from hedge-row to hedge-row; and her clothes from head to foot. In this number we begin a fashion department for women, which will appear fortnightly—often if there is a large demand for it. Nor shall we forget the woman's church and social life, her children and the schools.

EVERYMAN'S GARDEN

Are you willing to pay a few cents a week for a year's instruction, telling you every week, almost in words of one syllable, what to do with that little garden of yours? You are too wrapped up in business to take time enough to learn gardening—but you insist on pottering around your garden and blaming the seedsman for your failures. It's our job to prevent the failures. And we propose to do it each week of the coming year in a simple, practical way.

A MOTHER'S HEARTACHES

Over the Loss of Her "Little Boy Blue" Through
Drowning

TOLD IN LETTER RECEIVED IN LIMA.

Child of Former Residents of This City Has Never Been Found.

And they wonder while waiting the long years through In the dust of that little chaff:
What has become of our Little Boy Blue.

As an echo of a pitiful tragedy which has darkened the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Snyder, of Elkhart, Ind., for several years residents of this city on South Jackson street, a letter has been received by Mr. Elmer E. Stumbaugh, of South Baxter street, from the bereaved mother, in which the irreparable loss of her baby boy is most vividly portrayed. On the morning of December 5th, 1911, "Billy," the little tot who is the subject of the letter, accidentally fell into the river which runs near the Snyder home at Elkhart, Ind., and despite the most heroic efforts on the part of the family and the authorities, the little body has never been recovered. A detailed account of the deplorable accident appeared in the columns shortly after its occurrence.

Following is the mother's letter: Elkhart, Ind., Jan. 8, 1912.
Dear Delta:
I hardly know how to begin a letter now. Only one thing is in my heart and mind--our baby--the awful tragedy that took him from us.
Oh, Delta, it is hard, bitter, bitter hard to know that while we are here now and well--out there under a sheet of ice lies the little one we love so well. Five weeks tomorrow, Delta, and he has not been found, and will not be. Oh, think of it-- only a minute he was gone from my sight, but gone forever. Now can we hear it? I watched him so closely always. Whenever he was out playing I looked out every few minutes to see where he was. But he never went away, always stayed close at home. Just once before he went to the river and then he followed the same little fellow who took him there this time. But that time there was no boat there and this time there was. It is only a step from our house to the river and there is a sand bank between. I sat at the sitting room window and if they had gone straight to the river I would have seen them. But they didn't. They went back to our house and between two neighboring houses for Mrs. Portus and she was at the window and Billy looked up at her and smiled. They all play around the house, and she paid no attention to them. I don't think they started to go. I think they were just wandering around and maybe Ther-and suggested that they go after lunch and when they got on a sand bank they must have seen the boat. They ran to it. I think Billy climbed it first and climbed in going out to the end of the boat.

Later the motion when Therand climbed in or something caused him to lose his balance and fall. Maybe he was standing up. We will never know. The land said that Billy dipped his cap and reached for it.
Then he said he was trying to hang his cap on a limb he can't tell how it happened. He is only three years old himself and it all happened so quickly and he was frightened. The wonder is he ever returned to tell what happened.

Oh, how did I hear it and not see my child? I don't know. I know he was around to be seen for I take the lead or know what to do. No men near. I said someone go and call the police and someone get some rakes and do something. I know I did not realize what had really happened. I know my first thought was "I must not give way. I must keep my head and work." And then I thought of mamma and how I could best break it to her. I thought of Bert and the children--I thought of everything, and all the time I was telling the few men who had gathered what to do. I lived a thousand years in those few minutes.

And I thought I ought to go to her and comfort her. But I thought if I did there would be no one to think of what ought to be done. I must have been stunned in a way, and yet my mind seemed perfectly clear.
Some one said I should have a coat on because I was cold but I said, "No, I'm not cold--put the coat on that poor woman. I seemed to be two people at once. In a way I knew it was me and my child and in a way I thought it was some one else.
My mind seemed to stand away out side my body and it remained clear while my heart ached. They asked me where Bert was and I thought it was a queer question to ask at such a time but I tried to tell them, but I couldn't think. So I said, "I just had a letter from him that will tell you. So we one go to the house and let it lay on the couch in the living room."

I can imagine else asked if I had any friends living near and where they should telegraph. I knew they must not send word to mamma, so I told them Beulah's address in Toledo. Then someone else asked if I had any one nearer and I told them how to reach Carol. And all the time I wondered why they were asking me such questions. Then I thought I would go and tell Mrs. Elwell about it and maybe I could cry a little and go to sleep. So I started away from the river and Mrs. Miller and her mother came with me and when we got home they came in the house with me. Mrs. Miller asked me to let her change my clothes and I said, "Well, I'll change if you want too. So I changed my dress and then Mrs. Miller said I made the bed and put one clothes that had just come from the laundry in the dresser. Then I came down stairs. The last I remember I was looking out the window and the next a merciful darkness came over me. The next I knew the doctor was there and Mrs. Elwell and then I realized what had happened. Beulah came at ten o'clock that night and paid at twelve in the morning. Bert and Carol the next day at two o'clock.
Since then the river has been dragged and searched with powerful electric searchlights and dynamited with 30 charges of dynamite, but all to no purpose. And since then I have passed through worse hell. Oh, to think how different it would have been if I had kept him in the house. If the boat had not been there or if Mr. Gruber, the owner, had been but five minutes later in retrieving it there. For he told Bert he had just left the boat and gone to the house for a cigar. His dear little voice is always in my ears, his face always before me--and all is silence and darkness. Oh, it is hard to bear.
We loved him so. He was so sweet, so loving and dear. Was, was, but is no more.

Those are the empty things everyone says to me. Do they think such empty, meaningless things bring comfort? Oh, no, they fall like lead-on weights on a heart already over-hardened. Death and sorrow come to us all but to me is not given even a little grave to love and care for.
Just the cold dark river to roll over my little one, to swell those lovely little limbs, and blot that dear little form.

Oh, to think of it drives me mad.
Della, God may have wanted my baby's precious little soul, but oh, why does He not give me back the body that I love?

Oh, I want him back; I want to hear him say, "Ove me mamma? Me love too." Oh, I want him, I want him. My heart starves for him, but he's gone from me forever and my heart will ache till I too cross over the "river" which we never recross.

I must close now. Write to me when you can and let Molly know of this too. I can't write to all.
Love to you all.
PANSY.

THE IDLER.

Chartered under the laws and statutes of the state of Ohio, a new publishing company organized for the publishing of books, has been established with Lima as its headquarters. Two old Lima men are at the head of the concern. They are,
Mr. Edward C. Finley and Mr. J. R.
Finney. For some years Mr. Finney was the manager of the Lima Daily News, while Mr. Finley was for a time manager of the Auditorium.

This company will be called the Memorial Publishing Company, and will devote the greater part of its energies to the publishing of biographical, historical and technical work. Eminent men in various fields of literary activity have been employed in the states of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Colorado, for editing the works that will be gotten together in these respective places.

OPERETTA WAS MOST PLEASING.

"Two Little Brides" Will Be Remembered as One of the Musical Hits of the Season.

The performance of the operetta,
"Two Little Brides," at the Faurot theatre last evening thoroughly justified the extravagant claims that were made for the piece before it was given a local performance, and provided a most pleasing entertainment for the large crowd that was drawn to the theatre by the mere announcement that "Jimmy" Powers would be the chief fun producer.

The Kerkor operetta will long be remembered as the most tuneful and melodious piece that has been presented at the Faurot since "The Merry Widow," and the beauty of the score offered a delightful contrast to those meaningless compositions which are scattered at intervals in the average musical comedy that has visited the city in late years.

Particularly enjoyable were the duet numbers in which the piece abounded, and even though the majority of them were poorly accompanied, their beauty was not lost to the listener. The large chorus was selected for its singing qualities as well as for general appearance, in spite of the fact that it was the best looking and most lavishly costumed chorus that has visited the Faurot this season.

"Jimmy" Powers had one of the best comedy parts in his entire career, and that he made the most of it is attested by the fact that he was compelled to acknowledge the applause accorded his efforts with a witty curtain speech at the end of the first act.

Tried GETS-IT, the New Corn Cure, Yet?

See How Easy It Drives Away Corns.

"GETS-IT" Will "Get" Every Corn You've Got."

At last, a real does-what-it-says corn cure. Nothing like it has ever before been known.

Every man and woman who has corns, callouses, warts or bunions, ought to try "Gets-It" at once and see how marvellously it works. Quit shaving your corns with a razor. You may draw blood and cause blood poisoning.

"GETS-IT" is remarkable because it never irritates or turns the true red sore or raw. It can't. It is as safe as water. Stockings won't stick to it. Corns pains stop. The corn or callous shrivels up, comes out. Blessed relief!

Lella Hugheso, in the leading female roles, should be mentioned together, for they formed an ideal pair of song birds, both in vocal and historic ability. The balance of the cast was adequate, and assisted materially in the success of the piece. One or two of the musical numbers had a familiar sound, but this was forgotten in the delight at the superb rendition.

One thing only was lacking in the performance. If the Messrs Shubert would provide sufficient musicians to assist the house orchestra in the accompaniment, the effect would be doubly lasting and pleasing.

Lima's board of health has taken cognizance of the unsanitary condition of the city's jail and worktemplated to rid the city of the foul place in which the unfortunates are thrown when they run afoul of the missions of the law. Following a visit made to the jail by Health Officer Jones, it was announced that steps would be taken to better conditions.

It is quite probable that the jail will be ordered closed while it is being remodeled and enlarged so as to be fit for use. Poor ventilation, poor light, cramped quarters, and poor equipment were among the conditions disclosed by the investigation. The health officer also expressed opposition to the plan of massing the pris-

A meeting of the board of health will be held some time during the month to discuss the matter and decide what shall be done.

HIGH SCHOOL BASKET BALL

Was Begun This Afternoon

With a Contest With Paulding

GAMES THIS YEAR

IN THE AFTERNOON.

Second Series of the Church

League Are Played Tomorrow Night

At the Auditorium this afternoon at three-fifteen was played the first of the high school basket ball games for the season of 1913. Practice has been going on consistently for the past some time, and the team is in fine fettle for the contest today. Paulding comes here with a grim determination to win. It has been a long time since a Paulding team has been seen in action in Lima, and the visitors swear that they will leave a name behind them that will do them full credit.

The games this year will all be played in the afternoon, and will be called at 3:15. That this will prove a pleasing innovation is the hope of the management, and that there will be even a larger attendance than has been the custom in past years. The new arrangement makes the games more decidedly student activities, and draws a sharp line of distinction between these and the White Star games with are professional and are played in the evening. It is expected that as these games will come immediately after the close of school, that almost the entire student body will attend en masse.

Though the lineup of the team has not yet been announced by Coach Jackson, a surety, it will in all probability be with Miller and Mehaffey or Armstrong, forwards; Peck, center; and Sudowits and Rayn, guards; with Farrell on the utility side line.

The following schedule has been arranged for the season by the management:

January 10th—Paulding at Lima. January 17th—Findlay at Findlay. January 24th—Findlay at Lima. January 31st—Kenton at Lima.

February 5th—Defiance at Defiance. February 14th—Bluffton at Lima. February 21st—Bellefontaine at Bellefontaine.

February 28th—Bellefontaine at Lima. March 7th—Bluffton at Bluffton. March 14th—Defiance at Lima.

March 21st—Paulding at Paulding. March 28th—Napoleon at Napoleon.

The Church League.

Tomorrow evening at the Y. M. C. A. the second series of games in the new church league will be played, the first contests starting at seven-thirty. The beginning of this series was a popular proposition, and the first games last week were well attended. The teams are all well drilled and are made up of some of the best basket ball material in the Y. M. C. A.

Tomorrow evening there will be four games played, namely: The Olivet Presbyterian church vs. the Market St. Presbyterian church; the Trinity M. E. church vs. the Central Church of Christ; the South Side Church of Christ vs. the First Baptist church; and the First Christian church vs. the First United Brethren church.

AT THE LYRIC.

A very interesting play dealing with official life and governmental intrigues in Russia, is Frederick Morrell's play, "Under the Bear's Paw," which is now being presented at the Lyric theatre. Nearly everyone in Lima is familiar with the capabilities of the members of the Barrett players, and know that whatever they offer is not only of a high order, but is complete in every detail. The play above mentioned is beautifully costumed and the stage settings are adequate to the demand of the author's intention for "atmosphere." "Under the Bear's Paw" will remain for the balance of this week. Next week J. Hartley Manner's "The House Next Door" will be given and this will be another of "the big ones" the Barrett players will add to their long list of high class plays they have so admirably presented to Lima theatre-goers.

Plan for Tariff Adjustment.

IRON AND STEEL
ARE UNDER FIRE.

This is One of the Big Schedules in Tariff Legislation.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The iron and steel schedule was taken up today by the house ways and means committee when it resumed hearings on tariff revision. Two days probably will be devoted to this important section and many prominent steel men are expected to be heard. Schedule C is one of the big schedules of tariff legislation and has always drawn a large representation of industrial officials and experts to Washington.

Confronted by contradictory testimony during the consideration of the chemical, earthenware and glassware schedules the committee today began the practice of requiring all witnesses to testify under oath. Hereafter, every person who appears to advise the committee what it ought to do and how it would affect his interests, must give his views and couch his answers under the solemnity of an oath administered by the clerk of the committee. The beginning of this practice was at the suggestion of Representative James of Kentucky, and the committee agreed to it by unanimous vote.

This basis of the hearing today was the Underwood metal revision bill passed but vetoed during the last session of congress. The plan of the committee is to follow it very closely. This in a general way is the plan of the democratic leaders with respect to all the tariff schedule by 35 per cent and that the schedule would produce $17,477,610 in revenue.

The tentative democratic plan bases all rates on the value of the articles instead of the specific rates of the present Payne-Aldrich tariff.

law and would put on the free list iron ore, now 15 cents a ton, tungsten and zinc bearing ores, hoop or band iron, barbed and all other wire fencing, horse shoe nails, iron or steel cut nails or spikes, wire staples, cut tacks, washers, nuts, horseshoes, and cash registers. The democrats have expected by the Underwood bill to reduce the average duties on the articles in that schedule by 35 per cent and that the schedule would produce $17,477,610 in revenue.

Practically all members of the committee are sitting in the hearings. One of the interested spectators is Representative "Jack" Garner, of Texas, the unanimous choice of the Texas delegation for representative of that section of the country on the committee. Mr. Garner is expected to be put on the committee at the outset of the extra session and is attending the hearings from the bench with that end in view.

LYRIC THEATRE.

If you enjoy a good high class play, acted in a manner that compares favorably with the higher price productions that you have had to pay a dollar and a dollar and a half a seat to see, don't fail to see the Barrett Players in their production of "The House Next Door" at the Lyric Theatre Monday night, as without question this will be one of the finest plays offered by this popular company during their stay in Lima. Nearly every one has read the book of "The House Next Door," and the high praise bestowed upon it by the newspapers and magazines during its long run of the play at the Gaiety Theatre New York, while many no doubt saw it at the Faurot at higher prices. But the players are the first company to offer it to Lima theatre goers at popular prices, for while the royalty for producing the play is very high, there will be no advance in the prices of admission. Special scenery and electrical effects have been provided, the intention of the Barrett Players being to give a presentation of this play, that will compare favorably with any of the higher price attractions. All the members of cast are fitted with roles suited to them, and a first class acting production is assured. Lima is probably the smallest city in the United States that has a permanent stock company offering high class royalty plays such as the Barrett Players have been giving, and to the credit of the theatre goers, they have been filling the Lyric at nearly every performance, showing the appreciation of being able to see such high class plays at small prices of admission. "The House Next Door" Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, with but one matinee Tuesday, January 14th, at 2.30. Order seats early for Monday night and be assured a good seat, as there will no doubt be packed house. Lyric box office open daily after 2 a. m.

VICTIM NOT FROM LIMA

Cheering Word is Received Today From Evelyn
Stewart.

SHE IS WORKING IN ILLINOIS.

Description Sent From Cincinnati Did Not Fit Lima Girl.

All fear that the Evelyn Stewart mentioned in the press despatches of Wednesday as having been bound and drugged in a Pullman berth on a Big Four train near Cincinnati was from Lima was dispelled this morning when Clarence Stewart, a brother of the local girl, received a special delivery letter from his sister, postmarked at Springfield, Illinois.

In the letter, the Lima Miss Stewart stated that she had not been near Cincinnati for several months, and that the girl involved in the affair was some other girl having the same name as her own. She further stated that she had been working in Springfield for several weeks, and contemplated leaving there within the next few days for Kansas City, Mo.

The letter came as a great relief to the girl's mother, who lives on Tingle avenue, and to her other relatives and friends in this city, as they had entertained grave fears that it was she who had been the victim of the murderous assault in the Pullman car.

Word was also received from Chief Copelan of the Cincinnati police department yesterday, giving a description of the girl who was rescued from her predicament by the Cincinnati police. The description did not tally with the description of the local girl in any particular.

Chief Copelan also stated in his letter that the girl had sufficiently recovered from the effects of the drug administered to her to resume her journey to Knoxville, Tennessee, for which city she was bound when the assault was committed.

VISITORS FROM AFAR

Are Carrying Off the Prizes at the Lima Poultry Show.

ATTENDANCE IS VERY GRATIFYING.

Artistic and Financial Success of the Show is Assured.

Visitors to the Lima Poultry Show from afar are proving far better guessers than residents of this city, and as a consequence, are carting off the desirable prizes in the way of high class poultry each day. Wednesday, a Vaughnville man guessed nearest to the correct number of beans in a jar, while yesterday, Carl Kreitzer, of Wapakoneta, took back with him a pair of prize roosters for coming the closest to the number of snail shot in a jar. A jar of beans is placed near the entrance of the show today, and the one coming the nearest to the number will be given a pair of poultry.

The attendance has been increasing with each day, and the promoters of the show are wearing faces wreathed in smiles these days. More than 1,000 admissions were recorded yesterday, and indications are that this number will be equalled again perhaps, exceeded today. There never was a question of doubt as to the artistic success of the show, but the financial problem caused the commu-tee no small amount of worry. Tomorrow is the last day, and with good attendance on the last day, the success of the venture is assured.

Judge Struble, who is making the awards, is still at work scoring the entries, and the list of awards will not be made public before some time tomorrow. Owing to the excellence of the entries in each class, his task is a difficult one.

LIMA MEN TO GET THE JOB

Kline Construction Co. Will Build Allen County
Savings Building.

NEW STRUCTURE
WILL COST $95,000.

Big Feather in the Bonnet of Lima Industry is This Contract.

The official announcement has not yet been made of the awarding of the contract for the construction of the "Savings building" which will occupy the site of the old Trinity M. E. church on the northwest corner of Market and Elizabeth streets, but definite enough information has been given out the statement that a Lima man has been given the work is entirely credible.

The Kline Construction Company, of Lima, one of the closest of the bidders on the job, have landed the work, and in the near future as soon as the weather will permit, the work on the new structure will be begun. Bidding on this job there were over 23 general contractors, and a multitude of smaller individual bidders who desired this job or that on a split contract. There were 62 bids entered. Almost all were very close, and there was a great deal of difficulty experienced by the architects and the builders in selecting the proper one.

The new building, which will be six stories in height, will be a wonderful benefit to the city, and will mark a definite step of the business district across Elizabeth street on Market. It is definitely stated that the building will cost in the neighborhood of $95,000. It is to be built by the Allen County Savings and Loan Association.
